Helpful admission information

Standardized test scores

Currently, SAT or ACT scores are optional and not required for admission or merit scholarships. We encourage students to submit their test scores if they have them, as it may qualify students for admission to programs with higher requirements, make up for course deficiencies and make them eligible for larger merit-based awards.

Higher admission requirements

Some programs at ASU have higher admission requirements. Should you select one of these programs, you will be asked to select a second major without higher requirements.
