

EDWARD JONES ADVISORY SOLUTIONS®

Program List

Edward Jones Advisory Solutions® is an advisory program that uses mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), index funds and separately managed allocations (SMAs) to create diversified investment portfolios. These investments are carefully selected by the Edward Jones Mutual Fund Research Team. Our Investment Policy Committee provides asset allocation guidance that can help you select from several predetermined, fully discretionary Research Models, or you may choose to work with your financial advisor to design a Custom Model.

Edward Jones is a dually registered broker-dealer and investment adviser. Edward Jones Advisory Solutions® is an asset allocation program that provides investment advisory services. Depending on a client's minimum investment, a client can select Fund Models, which invest in affiliated mutual funds (if available), unaffiliated mutual funds and exchange-traded funds (ETFs), or UMA Models, which also include separately managed allocations (SMAs). Please review the applicable Edward Jones Advisory Solutions Brochure for more information.

You should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of each mutual fund and ETF before investing. The prospectus and, if available, summary prospectus, containing this and other information about the funds listed here are available from your financial advisor. You should read the prospectus and, if available, the summary prospectus of each fund carefully before investing.

In the case of a fund that is a money market fund, you could lose money by investing in the fund. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it cannot guarantee it will do so. The fund may impose a fee upon the sale of your shares or may temporarily suspend your ability to sell shares if the fund's liquidity falls below required minimums because of market conditions or other factors. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or any other government agency. The fund's sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the fund, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the fund at any time.

There may be additional risks inherent in certain investments, including mutual funds, exchange-traded funds (ETFs), and international and equity investments. These risks may include currency fluctuations and political, social and economic risks. Some mutual funds or ETFs categorized as niche assets may include real estate investment trusts (REITs), natural resources (such as gold or commodities), emerging markets and alternative investments registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940. Niche assets may be less liquid and contain a higher risk of loss of principal than other forms of equity investments. There is the potential for greater price swings associated with niche assets.

There may be risks involved with investing in equity and fixed-income investments. Equity investments generally involve greater risk than fixed-income investments and are subject to market fluctuation. There are greater-than-average risks involved with investing in small- and mid-capitalization and emerging growth companies. Small-company stocks can fluctuate in price more than larger company stocks and may have limited marketability. International stocks contain additional risks that are not associated with U.S. domestic issues, such as changes in currency exchange rates and different governmental regulations, economic conditions, and accounting standards. Fixed-income investments, or bonds, are subject to interest rate risk, credit risk and market risk. High-yield bond funds invest in fixed-income securities that, at the time of purchase, are non-investment grade, involve greater price volatility and present greater risks than higher-rated fixed-income securities. All investments involve risk, including loss of principal amount invested. Diversification does not guarantee a profit or protect against loss.

ESG Intentional Funds are mutual funds or exchange-traded funds (ETF) that have an explicit emphasis on environmental, social, and/or governance considerations. The ESG Intentional mutual funds and ETFs identified with the "∞" are recommended by Mutual Fund Research, the team of research analysts responsible for recommending and monitoring mutual funds and ETFs recommended by Edward Jones. Mutual Fund Research conducts quantitative and qualitative analysis to evaluate funds' investing advantage, risk management, durability, and costs. When evaluating ESG Intentional funds, research analysts assess a fund's: depth and quality of ESG research resources; the robustness of the ESG investment process; and the ESG commitment level and intentionality of the investment team. Mutual Fund Research also uses third-party ESG research from reputable providers to aid in its analysis. On an ongoing basis, Mutual Fund Research monitors the ESG Intentional funds it recommends to ensure they continue to meet its standards.

SMA Managers within the Advisory Solutions UMA Models may act as a non-discretionary sub-advisor to Edward Jones and the Overlay Manager. The SMA Manager's level of discretion is based on the investment strategy each SMA Manager is providing to the Overlay Manager. The non-discretionary SMA Managers will only provide a model portfolio consistent with a general investment objective and are not tailored to any individual client. Edward Jones, its employees and financial advisors are not estate planners and cannot provide tax or legal advice. Please consult your estate-planning attorney or qualified tax advisor regarding your situation.
